

Robert Dawson
Founder

"Our team works together with our clients, building trust, results, and successful long-term relationships. That has and always will be the Dawson & Associates model."

"It is difficult to find words to sufficiently express our gratitude to you for all you did in getting the Water Resources Reform and Development Act of 2014 passed by Congress. You have served the interests of the Sacramento community and the nation well."

– Rick Johnson

Executive Director, Sacramento Area Flood Control Agency

Dawson & Associates is the nation's premier firm for resolving complex challenges involving Federal water-related environmental policy and procedures, and Federal contracting. Unique in our capabilities, the Dawson team includes former Members of Congress, retired Federal agency heads, and dozens of former military and civilian leaders from the Army Corps of Engineers, including more than a dozen retired flag officers.

No other firm can match Dawson's ability to develop solutions to complex Federal environmental regulatory challenges. We also offer project risk assessment and many technical services for clients needing specialized expertise to address problems not requiring government advocacy.

If you make us a full member of your team, with our expertise and trusted relationships we'll bring to you our unmatched record of success!
