

Col. (Ret) Robert Friedenwald

During his career with Corps of Engineers, Bob steadily rose through the ranks, concluding his career as District Commander of the Portland District in Oregon. He also served as Executive Director of the Civil Works Directorate in the Corps Headquarters in Washington, D.C. Other assignments included the Far East and Europe.

Bob spent 14 years with the Port of Portland in Oregon, completing multiple engineering and construction management programs involving navigation and airport facilities.

Other Experience

- Maritime advisor to U.S. and coalition naval forces in the Persian Gulf